

EMPORIA FAIR TO BE MADE THE BEST

Plans on Foot to Make This Year's Exhibition Surpass All Others.

BIG AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT

This Feature to Be Given Special Attention—Race Program to Be Good One

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] EMPORIA, VA., March 21.—The executive committee of the Emporia Agricultural Fair Association held its annual meeting last night, and the dates agreed upon for opening the fair here were October 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th, which will be the week following the great Richmond State Fair.

A special committee was appointed that will look after and develop the agricultural side of the association and this feature will be decidedly an improvement over any exhibits of former years. In fact the members of the association who have this matter in hand guarantee the finest assortment of farm products and farming implements ever seen in this section of the State.

The horseracing will be an attractive feature of this year's exhibition. A large number of the best harness and saddle performers from North Carolina, Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia will be seen here. The purses will prove exceedingly attractive to owners of high-class stock. No purse offered will be less than $300, and this alone assures a splendid collection of racers, trotters, pacers and high steppers for the fall meet in Emporia.

The officers of the association are G. L. Vincent, president; E. E. Goodwyn, secretary and treasurer; A. A. Slagle, general manager; with R. J. Green and H. W. Hall assistant general managers. Any information regarding the Emporia Agricultural Association will be cheerfully furnished by writing the secretary.

Bank Organized in Rustburg. RUSTBURG, VA., March 21.—At a meeting held in Rustburg this afternoon the Rustburg Bank, for the purpose of organizing a bank, was organized.

THE SOUTH SHOWS NEW SIGNS OF LIFE

Reports from Various Sections Indicate Reviving Activity in Many Lines.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BALTIMORE, Md., March 21.—At different points in the South, according to reports from the Manufacturers' Record, are indications of reviving activity on a number of lines. Plans are underway looking to making Augusta, Ga., an important center of interurban electric railways. Contract has already been awarded for the Atlanta end of the line of the Atlanta and Augusta Electric Road, which is to run through one of the most resourceful sections of the State. The route of the Augusta and Columbia has been surveyed and work has been taken up between Alken and Columbia, S. C., cars being now operated on a stretch of more than twenty miles between Augusta and Alken. The plans now under consideration may result in a consolidation of these lines and the local line in Augusta, and the construction also of a line between Edgefield and Augusta.

Congress has granted a right to construct two dams across the Savannah River above Augusta, and the power thus developed electrically will supply a number of factories and small cities with light and power.

Work on Georgia Road. More than 1,000 men and 500 teams are pushing work upon the Savannah, Augusta and Northern Railway, and within two weeks it is expected that grading will be completed as far as Thomson, Ga., thirty-seven miles from Augusta. Track has been laid from Statesboro to Garfield, Ga., twenty-five miles. Arrangements have practically been completed for the operation of trains into Atlanta by the middle of next month over the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, and it is expected that construction upon a small stretch on the Birmingham line will be completed by the middle of July, giving a total length of 649 miles to the system. Several large loads of steel rails have recently arrived at Norfolk for the Virginia Railway, which is pushing westward. The line is now operated from Norfolk to Victoria, Va., a distance of 120 miles, and between the latter point and Matoaka construction is in progress.

The West Virginia end of the line from Matoaka to Deepwater has been in operation some time. Completion of the terminals at Tampa, Fla., of the Tampa Northern Railroad is being speeded. This road extends for miles from Tampa to Brooksville, Fla., is being extended to Dunnellon and is projected to make connection at Thomson, Ga., with the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic. A company at Rustburg, Ga., is planning for the construction of a mill building two stories high, 100 by 300 feet, of stone and concrete blocks, with concrete floors, sanitary plumbing, steam heat, etc. Cotton mills at Savannah will build a factory by 150 foot addition and to construct an electric railway. Mills at Jacksonville, Ala., have made an addition to accommodate 25,000 spindles and have built an electric plant to drive all the machinery. Orders in the building trade from such places as New Orleans, Jacksonville, Fla., and Selma, Ala., and the signing of a contract for a sixteen-story office building at Birmingham, are signs showing a returning breeze of activity.

PRICES OFF, SOME ON HIGHER GRADES

ceipts this week. Tuesday's sales lasted until after the dinner hour, but sales were heavier than the latter part of the week. The weather has been exceptionally fine for farmers at work, and they have taken advantage of this to remain at home and catch up with their work, which is greatly behind. There is very little, if any, change in the quality of the offerings, although there were no quite so many of the low grades showing up. The buyers are out in full force, and watching the market closely to see that nothing is neglected. Good to fine cutters show a little easier tendency, but with this exception everything is moving up. Trade continues quiet in redried tobaccos, although some little business has been done in a retail way.

Petersburg Receipts Lighter

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PETERSBURG, VA., March 21.—Receipts on the Petersburg market have been somewhat lighter during the past week, but the market has remained unchanged and sound tobacco.

Because of the very warm weather which has been prevailing, some tobacco is showing up in the condition, which necessitates selling at lower prices. It is roughly estimated that about 80 per cent. of the crop in this section has been used.

The market quotations, furnished by Messrs. Craddock and Jones, of the Virginia warehouse, are as follows: Choice, 100 lbs. to 100 lbs. hundred pounds; good leaf, $5.75 to $9 per hundred pounds; short leaf, $5 to $8 per hundred pounds; medium leaf, $10 to $15 per hundred pounds; short wrappers, $11 to $15 per hundred pounds; fine wrappers, $16 to $19 per hundred pounds.

South Boston's Sales Good

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] SOUTH BOSTON, VA., March 21.—The sales this week far exceeded the average of previous ones. The market is naturally expected that the farmer would be busy with his plow. Prices are holding up nicely, and the average is generally $10 to $12 per hundred pounds, and small breaks are expected from now on. The highest price yet paid for the crop was $14, which was paid during the past week.

Blackstone Market

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BLACKSTONE, VA., March 21.—Sales of tobacco on this market have been below the normal this week, owing to two causes. The farmers have been busy with plowing, and the crop, with the pretty weather, and there is not so much tobacco left unsold. Prices have shown a little weakness, but are still far above past years. Some sales have been as high as $25, which, for dark tobacco, is a kind sold on this market, is very fine.

Season There About Closed

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., March 21.—Receipts of tobacco were very light this week, amounting to less than 100,000 pounds, and that mostly of an inferior grade, showing that the farmers are winding up, and selling their last loads. One more week will practically close the market, though the warehouses will keep open all the spring, selling now and then a belated load. Prices remain firm on all grades offered, and farmers seem well pleased. Plans show the week ending now, and with continued good weather from now on will be plenty large when the spring comes. Farm work is in fairly good shape.

Sales At Winston-Salem

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 21.—Fair-sized sales continue to be the feature of the local leaf tobacco market. The breaks this week aggregated about half a million. The offerings have been of a better grade than last week, and this week's average is higher than for several weeks past. Several prices have been as high as $10 per hundred, and a score of farmers have averaged from $16 to $24 per hundred for their leaf.

Situation At Wilson

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WILSON, N. C., March 21.—The statement published in last Sunday's paper that the Wilson market would sell about twenty-five million pounds of leaf tobacco next season is incorrect. This market is selling for fifty something over fifteen million pounds of the leaf, and the coming crop will, it is believed, be only slightly increased. Sales here have been very light this week, and the warehouses will practically close next week. Both the American and Imperial companies are no longer on the market, owing to the small offerings.

Lighter Sales in Lynchburg

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, VA., March 21.—The tobacco sales on the local market during the past week, while slightly lighter than the previous week, brought a better grade of tobacco than the week preceding, and the trade was active, with prices slightly high. The proportion of fine wrappers being offered continues small. The sales for the week past aggregated $18,000,000, or 1,313,000 pounds, or 1,313,000 pounds, or 1,313,000 pounds. The offerings range from $6 to $8.50 for large; $5 to $16 for leaf, and $16 to $20 for wrappers.

Henderson Market

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] HENDERSON, N. C., March 21.—Breaks in the Henderson tobacco market have for the past few weeks been light, and prices have varied but little. Quotations are as follows: Fine cutters, $35 to $50; medium, $25 to $30; good, $18 to $25; medium, $12 to $17.50; fine smokers, $10 to $15; medium, $7 to $11. The Harriet cotton mill, No. 2, which for several months, has been under construction, is nearing completion. After the machine is in position, in a few weeks the mill will be in full operation. From the present prospect, as soon as the weather permits, residence will be elected in Henderson the present year.

Good Sales at Pamplin

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PAMPLIN CITY, VA., March 21.—At Pamplin's Tobacco Warehouse, Mr. Thomas R. Pugh, manager, the sales have been good, some $1,000,000 worth of leaf tobacco being sold as much as $35. This house in the past two weeks has sold 37,800 pounds, at $1,688.50.
